

Dydd Gwener 22 Mawrth
Talporish and publish a modern retelling of Romeo and Juliet.

One lovely sunny day in Verona the two great rival Supermarkets, the Montague's and Capulet's were involved, once more in a useless and unneeded war. A Montague was caught swapping posters to stop people shopping at the Capulet market. This was another incident in the store war which had so far included changing sale dates and ruining each others adverts. The both supermarkets then started to fight stopping citizens from shopping in Verona. Immediately the mayor of Verona told the two stores to stop by putting posters up telling the stores, if they carry on they all will be closed.

A few days later the Capulet Employee of the month awards ceremony was held in an substantial food filled room with diamonds hanging from the ceiling and shining on to the masks of the guests. Lord Capulet then announced that Tybalt was the winner. Sneaking through the open window three unwired men, Romeo, Benvolio and Mercutio chuckled at this declaration. A couple of hours later that night the awards ceremony then changed to a ball and all the guests started to dance, nevertheless there was a young girl named Juliet who was waiting for Someone to dance with. Nervously but excited Romeo calmly walked over to Juliet. As soon as Juliet and Romeo saw each other they knew straight away they had to be married.

A couple of hours later Romeo and Juliet were secretly married by Friar Lawrence. After that same day Romeo was taking a walk in Verona when all of a sudden Romeo was ambushed by Tybalt, the cousin of Juliet. Furiously Tybalt bellowed "So you think my award is humorous do you?"

"Please don't make me fight you Tybalt" replied Romeo. Unemotionally Romeo walked away. However Mercutio was annoyed. Furiously he bellowed "I will fight you soon!"

"Come and fight if you can" replied Tybalt confidently. Mercutio and Tybalt started to fight. Unluckily Mercutio was stabbed and died. After hearing what happened Romeo zoomed back and killed Tybalt in a rage of fury.

Meanwhile, Juliet raced to Friar Lawrence after hearing some horrible news; Juliet's parents were forcing her to marry rich Paris. Desperate to help his lovely friend, Friar Lawrence started to think of a plan to help the straight forward lovers stay with each other. Instantly a light of an idea flashed in to Friar Lawrence's mind. With no time to lose he put sleeping portion is minced beef and made a burger. As soon as it was done Friar Lawrence explained to Juliet that "When you eat this burger you will appear dead for 42 hours. And when you wake up, you can run away with Romeo." "Don't forget to tell Romeo the plan," asked Juliet. He replied "I will my lovely lady."

She then ate the burger and fell into her deep sleep.

The day after, Lord and Lady Capulet noticed that their young Juliet didn't rise out of bed for her breakfast. Curiously they ascended up the marvelous, massive stairs to Juliet's chamber to find her dead. They sobbed in guilt thinking it was their fault. They then melancholy changed it from a wedding to a funeral. Romeo's personal assistance, Balthazar was hiding in the nearby bushes. He saw some Capulets carrying Juliet in to the tomb.

With no time to lose he raced as fast as a mad bull to Romeo with the horrifying news. Romeo was heart broken to hear that Juliet was dead. He was as sad as a rain cloud. He ran away "If she is dead then I will join her." That same minute, Friar Lawrence thought he had forgotten something.

Whizzing, Romeo materialised at the Capulet tomb. He gasped when he saw Juliet's dead body. Romeo blubbered as he kissed Juliet one last time and after that he drank the poison and dropped to the floor in death. A couple of minutes later Juliet woke up from her deep sleep. Suddenly Juliet saw Romeo on the floor, dead. She saw the bottle of poison next to the dead body. She knew what she had to do she grabbed Romeo's dagger and she forced it in her heart. As soon as Juliet stabbed herself the Capulets saw the two bodies on the floor.

Latter that day the mayor of Verona told all of them that it was all of their fault that they lost their youngest children. "For never was a story of more woe than that Juliet and her Romeo."